BACKGROUND & OWNERSHIP

Established: 2012

Ownership: HaiCo HaiCo.ca

Operated By: Haida Tourism LP HaidaTourism.ca

Sister Property: Ocean House at Tlaga Gawtlaas (Old Massett, BC)

Haida House at Tllaal is proud to be 100% Haida (Indigenous) owned and was the first eco-tourism resort in HaiCo's (Haida Enterprise Corporation) collection.

The lodge, which was built in the 1980s, was originally a privately-run inn named Tlell River House. After changing ownership, it became a trophy bear-hunting lodge and closed to the non-hunting public. In 1995, the Council of Haida Nation called for the end of the recreational bear hunt on Haida Gwaii, and successfully retired the last remaining bear hunting licenses by purchasing the property via the Haida Enterprise Corporation.

In 2012 the lodge reopened as the Haida House at Tllaal, and began welcoming visitors seeking Haida cultural experiences.

LOCAL FLORA & FAUNA

Often referred to as the Canadian Galapagos, Haida Gwaii is a temperate wonderland comprised of pristine bays and inlets, seemingly endless stretches of sandy beachfront, towering rainforests with ancient trees that soar to 95 meters in height, and a verdant high-country where alpine flowers, herbs and grasses thrive.

Haida Gwaii's unique fauna has evolved over thousands of years. Six of its ten native land mammal subspecies are not found anywhere else on earth, including North America's largest black bear, known as "taan" in the Haida language. In the waters surrounding Haida Gwaii, twenty species of whales and dolphins have been recorded, with grey and humpback whales sighted regularly during spring migration. Over 1.5 million seabirds' nest along the coast, and the bald eagle is readily spotted in the skies above.

The faraway archipelago is also home to UNESCO World Heritage Site, S̱ang Gwaay and rich in both Haida culture and eco-adventure opportunities. North Beach is another stunning windswept scene, where, at low tide, you can find moon snails that span the palm of your hand.
